Give Your Libido A 1-2 Punch!

I'm a tiger in bed again...--V. Smith

Dear Friend,

Get more energy to enjoy retirement. Be able to enjoy your 'golden years' to the absolute fullest. Don't be like the other guy your age that looks as if his body is breaking down each time you see him.

Have so much drive at the end of your day, your wife or mate will wonder what's gotten into you. Finesse her in the bedroom. Make her smile again....every time she thinks of you.

Boost your immune system to fight diseases. Build your stamina and burn fat, too. Detoxify your body and say bye-bye to stiff joints.

In a little while, you'll be able to achieve more in your day than ever before. You'll be able to do things you hadn't done in years. That's because your vigor will increase dramatically.

You won't have to worry about not feeling strong enough to enjoy a social life. You'll be the verve of the party. And your friends will want to know the secret to that gleam in your eye. Yes. Your life is about to get better—better than you could have dreamed.

Hold up a minute, though. You have to know something. Strange young females may stop you on the street asking for directions. But I don't think you'll mind one bit....

This is your chance to stay fit, look good and feel young.

When I left the work world at 62 years of age, all I wanted was to enjoy retirement. Then all of a sudden, I turned 65.....My sexual prowess had gone the way of the DoDo. My wife never said anything, but I knew what she was thinking. But after a couple of months on your product, my wife now says she feels like she lives with a 25-year old again! --Mr. L. Rogers

THE SECRET TO FEELING BETTER....REALLY

I'd like you to imagine for a moment.....

See yourself out on the town dancing a hole in your shoes. There's a new twist in your back side. People look at you admiring your moves....you radiate magnetism. You are twirling and dipping your lady all over the floor. All the other ladies wish their dates were as suave as you. You feel great. You can dance all night long without breaking a sweat.

But don't stop there. Imagine yourself again...this time on a road trip. Perhaps you want to take in the majestic valleys of the Grand Canyon. As you conquer the open road while playing your favorite tune on the radio, you finally reach your destination. But wait, you are still energized. You have enough oomph left to drop your bags off at the hotel and get right to the hiking, riding or flying down into the natural beauty that is the fauna and flora of the canyon.

Talk about being able to maximize the moment.....you'll have enough spunk to do it.

This can be you. In fact, this is you and I'm going to tell you in a few minutes how to bring this vision into reality. But before I do, I'd like to let you know that:

*According to Prescription for Long Life, written by Drs. Mitchell-Kurk and Morton
Walker, fatigue is one of the most common complaints of maturing adults.*

If this is one of your complaints, I have something for you that will virtually zap fatigue into nonexistence. You'll feel as though an anvil has been removed from your chest. Breathing easier will no longer be a chore. Additionally:

The Arthritis Cure by Jason Theodosakis, MD reports that arthritis affects millions of people worldwide, including more than 50 million Americans.

What I am going to tell you about will give you the chance to lubricate your squeaking joints. Your legs and arms will move more freely. You'll be able to do squats again without making those embarrassing popping noises. And you'll be able to walk erect with confidence.

But before I continue, I want to tell you about Mr. Vick:

He was man in his 50s suffering horribly from arthritis pain in his left knee. Each time he got up to walk, he'd wince and groan in misery. He said, "It felt like my bones were grinding against shards of glass each time I walked." After a short time taking a new product, Mr. Vick reported that his arthritic pain had drastically improved. He was even able to play a round of tennis with his wife again.

If you suffer from arthritis, wouldn't you like to be like Mr. Vick? Well, you can.

And now that I've told you about a few of the benefits you can soon enjoy, I'd like to let you one more thing you will soon be able to do.

Very soon and on into the distant future you will be able to experience greater pleasure in life. Why? It's because you will have the staying power you need to do so many things. And, along with doing, you will simply just feel better.

What in life is more valuable than having the ability to do more and the capacity to feel great doing more? You're right. It's priceless. But, you'll have access to it in just a minute.

You have probably heard about different "natural" products on the market. Maybe you have even tried some of them. But you just didn't like them for whatever reason.

I want to assure you the product I'm going to tell you about is unlike other products on the market. You will get results faster. In fact, most people feel results within the first couple of days of using our product.

In that we've discovered you are a man of very discriminating tastes, we wanted to make a product just for you.

Because this is so, I need to tell you about Phyto-Punch!, a high-potency daily supplement for men...the formula that changed my friend Mr. Rogers' life for the better.

This all-natural wonder of the supplement world can enhance your life in countless ways. That is why I recommend you add Phyto-Punch! to your arsenal of good habits.

If you walk or run for exercise, it can improve your performance, because your stamina will increase. If you dread the winter months, you won't have to anymore, because your immune system will also function better. Your mood will perk up, and you will be better able to adapt to stress, too!

These benefits--essential for a strong and healthy body well into retirement--are yours to enjoy when you use Phyto-Punch!.

In a minute, I'm going to let you glimpse into Phyto-Punch!'s powerful ingredients. But before I do, let me tell you a little bit about the man responsible for this formula.

A FORMULA GOOD ENOUGH FOR DR. SMITH'S OWN FATHER

Martin Smith, MD

After watching his father, who was once a healthy and robust man, become listless, sluggish, and apathetic, Dr. Martin Smith wanted to help him be better again. He wanted a means to battle the damaging effects of the typical Western diet, which he believed was responsible for his father's mental and physical decline.

Motivated by this goal, Dr. Smith, director of Martin Smith Clinic and Health Awareness Center, first stumbled upon this formula while on sabbatical in Shanghai. While researching Chinese healing herbs during this time, Dr. Smith decided to go against conventional medicine and explore the benefits of natural healing.

After several years of research and trials, Dr. Smith finally developed this product, currently available only through his clinic.

Having received his degree from John Hopkins University, Dr. Smith and his staff are qualified and now committed to providing Phyto-Punch! to improve the lives of other men like his father.

Now that you know something about Phyto-Punch!'s maker, let's delve inside what's inside each and every bottle of this product.

AN AMAZING PRODUCT WITH PURE GOODNESS INSIDE

Phyto-Punch! is a collection of the finest herbs used on the market today. And, it's the only vitamin supplement comprised of whole-food nutrients—enabling your body to immediately recognize and assimilate their benefits.

Simply put, you can enjoy quicker results.

Along with giving you more bang for your buck, this formula compensates for the typical, nutrient-lacking Western diet. How? Well, Phyto-Punch! does this with super green foods high in chlorophyll. Chlorophyll are the green pigment found in plant cells which receive light energy from the sun. And multiple studies are continuing to show that chlorophyll reduces the damage done to the human DNA during the cancer formation process. And chlorophyll more resembles human blood than any other substance—a substance you would want to take in an effort at building your blood.

Along with the natural goodness of chlorophyll, Phyto-Punch! contains a host of other power-house goodies.

Let me outline this formula's impressive collection of herbs while specifying the conditions each addresses. Use the combined herbal benefits of Phyto-Punch! if you want:

- Alfalfa to address problems of blood clotting, high cholesterol, arthritis, diabetes, digestive problems, weight loss, ulcers, kidney and bladder problems, prostate conditions, asthma, and hay fever.
- Hydrilla verticillata to enhance your body's nutrient absorption, control toxic reactions caused by drugs as well as dietary and environmental chemical exposure, and provide musculo-skeletal, weight management and anti-aging support.
- Fo-Ti Root to combat the effects of aging, tonify your liver and kidneys, nourish your blood, and improve blurred vision.
- Siberian Ginseng to strengthen your body, enhance your immune system, minimize your stress levels, fatigue and exhaustion, prevent colds and flus, ease discomfort due to chronic diseases, and aid in the recovery of nervous conditions like depression or anxiety.
 - o According to the Gale Encyclopedia of Alternative Medicine (GEAM), Chinese medicine has used Siberian ginseng for over 2,000 years to increase energy, vitality and to treat respiratory and other infections.
- Gotu Kola Leaf to address anxiety, varicose veins, and poor memory.
 - o Also according to Gale Encyclopedia of Alternative Medicine, gotu kola was purported in Sri Lanka to prolong life, as the leaves are commonly eaten by elephants.
- Hawthorn Berry to treat heart disease and prevent cardiovascular disorders, increase blood flow to your heart, lower your blood pressure, ease your heart's workload, increase the force of your heart's contractions, and help you recover from angioplasty.
- Panax Ginseng Root (Korean Ginseng) to help your body repair after exercise, adapt to stress better, improve your overall stamina, fight anti-senility, aid memory improvement, and tonify your adrenal glands.
 - o The ancient belief that Korean ginseng is a "rejuvenation tonic" promoting health, vitality and longevity holds substantiated facts. According to China Academy of Traditional Chinese Medicine, it is known as the "herb of eternal life". And of the three classes of medicinal Chinese herbs, ginseng is top of the "superior" class because it is totally non-toxic and can be used all of the time with no side effects.
- Ginger Root to aid digestion, heal ulcers caused by Helicobacter pylori, create an anti-ulcer environment in your body, minimize inflammation, lower cholesterol levels, enhance blood circulation and thin your blood.
 - o Also according to China Academy of Traditional Medicine, ginger's use dates back 2,000 years in the Oriental culture. Ginger is used in dozens of traditional Chinese prescriptions as a "guide drug" to "mediate" the effects of potentially toxic ingredients.
- Sarsaparilla Root to improve your sex drive, relieve inflammation, purify your blood, treat liver and skin disorders, relieve excess gas, increase urine flow, increase your metabolism, and maintain youth and energy.
- Nettle leaf to soothe inflammation, get rid of excess fluid, stimulate the immune system, treat urinary tract problems, expel kidney gravel, and reduce symptoms of benign prostatic hyperplasia.

- Licorice Root to serve as an expectorant, help in the treatment of upper respiratory tract catarrh, relieve sore throat and coughs, cleanse the colon, tonify your liver, improve arthritis, treat muscle spasms, reduce stomach acid and relieve heartburn, and stimulate the body to produce interferon.
 - o Mother Earth News magazine says licorice connoisseurs throughout history have included pharaohs and prophets. Generous supplies were discovered in King Tut's tomb, while Egyptian hieroglyphics record the use of licorice in a popular beverage by men in the days when the Bible was still being written!
- Ginkgo Leaf to improve memory and concentration, treat allergies, asthma, bronchitis, cardiac arrhythmia, leg ulcers, varicose veins, stroke, tonify your heart, increase blood flow throughout the body (particularly cerebral blood flow), prevent hemorrhagic strokes, improve erectile dysfunction, and eliminate damaging free-radicals in the body.
 - o Chinese Materia Medica states ginkgo's existence dates back to the dinosaurs, being in existence for approximately 200 million years. It is the oldest living tree species. And, its remarkable healing virtues have been recorded as far back as 2800 B.C. where it is a native to Asia. This species of plant can live to be 3000 years old.

Now you can take a formula with anti-aging properties that improve your health without taking addictive conventional medicines.

Give Phyto-Punch! a try. You won't be disappointed.
